New hope for pet owners looking to rent

Finally there's a service that makes it easier for Aussie pet owners to find a home for themselves and their pets.

Thanks to the efforts of Ryan Blunden, founder of Pet Friendly Rentals, pet owners will soon not have to troll through thousands of rental listings to find the few that allow pets.

Determined to help pet owners secure a home, Ryan established Pet Friendly Rentals a few years ago as a way of providing a 1 stop shop for pet owners looking for rental properties. His plan was to provide a list of pet friendly rental properties on one website.

“Unfortunately my initial approach to achieving this goal has run into some obstacles and manually searching for sites on behalf of everyone who contacted me in the meantime has proven too much to keep up with on my own” Ryan explains.

“But I've finally found a solution, and I'm so excited!”

Ryan will be re-launching the website and its services on 2nd June 2008 and the new site promises not to disappoint. As well as including a tool to make finding pet friendly rentals easier than ever before, additional features will be added to the site as the weeks go on – making this a truly valuable resource for Aussie renters with pets.
